

CONTENTS

Introduction: European lobbying in perpetual motion	13
1. Times of construction (1957-1970): fusional lobbying	13
2. The low tide (1971-1987): diplomatic lobbying	13
3. The single market (1988-2005): strategic lobbying	14
4. The 30 nations Europe (2006-...): transversal lobbying	15
From sectoral lobbying to transversal lobbying: a revolution under way	16
Part One: Lobbying structures	19
Chapter 1: An overview of lobbying in Brussels	20
Introduction to the various structures of lobbying	21
Chapter 2: European trade associations	22
1. An overview of the European trade associations in Brussels	22
2. The members of European trade associations	31
A. The typical structure	31
B. Mixed systems combining national associations and corporate members	33
C. Towards direct company membership?	36
3. The operational structure of European associations	39
A. Unanimity voting leads to impotency	39
B. The role of the Secretary General in the decision-making process	40
4. European associations and national associations: who's in charge?	43
5. The audit: how to evaluate the performance of a European association	45
Chapter 3: Non-governmental organisations (NGOs)	50
A. The NGO platform in Brussels (the Civil Society Contact Group)	50
B. The position of NGOs in the EU arena	53
C. The strategy and working methods of NGOs	54
D. NGO/business partnerships	57
Chapter 4: European trade unions	59
A. ETUC: a force to be reckoned with	59
B. European sectoral social dialogue	60
C. Why and how to work with ETUC?	61
Chapter 5: European representation of business	63
A. A trend for reducing the size of European representations	63
B. The choice of representative for a large company in Brussels	64
C. Strategy of multinational companies in Brussels	64

Part Two: The tools 69

Chapter 1: European legislative monitoring 70

- A. The basics of monitoring: perimeter and depth 70
- B. Frequency, audience 71
- C. A typical day of legislative monitoring 72
- D. Our method: a system of standardised reports 74

Chapter 2: Business intelligence in Brussels 75

- A. BI offers fantastic potential for information at European level 75
- B. Methodology for researching information 77
- C. BI: a major strategic tool 79

Chapter 3: Upstream and downstream network 80

- A. The notion of global networks 80
- B. Upstream and downstream networks 82
- C. National networks 83

Chapter 4: Institutional communication 84

- A. The N° 1 problem of written and oral communication 84
- B. The 10 golden rules of oral communication 85
- C. The 10 golden rules of written communication 86
- D. Towards a new type of position paper? 86
- E. Do good manners still count? 88

Chapter 5: The accredited press 89

- A. An overview of the accredited press in Brussels 89
- B. European journalists: how to work with them? 89
- C. The press as part of a lobbying campaign 90
- D. The press, an integral part of your network 91

Part Three: Lobbying strategies 93

Chapter 1: Lobbying, an integral part of the decision-making process 94

- A. A legally recognised counter-balance, with a considerable influence 95
- B. “Good lobbyist” – “Bad lobbyist” 95
- C. Influence in Brussels depends on excellence 96
- D. Where national lobbying is essentially political; European lobbying is mainly technical 96

Chapter 2: The preparatory phase 98

- A. The 7 pillars of European lobbying 98
- B. Anticipation 99
- C. Impact assessment and prioritisation 100
- D. Intervention “from the top” or “from the bottom” 102

Chapter 3: Where and when to intervene?	104
A. The equal importance of the three Institutions	104
B. Interventions during the proposal phase	104
C. Interventions at the different stages of the co-decision procedure	106
D. Interventions at the execution phase (Comitology)	112
Chapter 4: Adopting a strategy: negative, defensive, reactive, pro-active	117
A. Firstly, manage the constraints	117
B. Adopting a strategy	118
C. Four strategic options	119
1. Negative lobbying strategies	119
2. Defensive lobbying strategies	120
3. Reactive lobbying strategies	123
4. Pro-active lobbying strategies	123
D. Some statistics on lobbying strategies	127
Chapter 5: Classical coalitions: indispensable, necessary or worthless?	128
A. Sectoral associations, a classic spearhead of lobbying in the 1970s & 1980s	129
B. The concentric coalitions of the 1990s: Big is beautiful!	129
C. European lobbying + national lobbying: another form of coalition	130
D. Acting alone?	131
Chapter 6: The new coalitions	132
A. Platforms	132
– Public/private partnership platforms	132
– “Shop window” platforms	133
– “Counter Balance” platforms	133
– Industrial platforms	134
– Platforms created as lobbying tools	134
B. Transversal lobbying	135
– The emergence of civil society as a means of influence	135
– Breaking “the segregation of interests”	136
– Transversal lobbying: the theory	137
– Transversal lobbying: the practice	137
– A transversal alliance for the revision of the Directive of sewage sludge	138
Chapter 7: And what about ethics?	139
A. The budget: a false problem	139
B. Ethics: law and practice	140